This video shows, among other things, original excerpts from a historic me

This video shows, among other things, original excerpts from a historic meeting of an expert group in the USA in Shasta County, California, on July 15, 2014. Several pilots, doctors and scientists discussed problems arising from deliberate and large-scale intervention with technical means in the geochemical or biogeochemical cycles of the Earth through programs of the military-industrial complex ...

This video shows, among other things, original excerpts from a historic meeting of an expert group in the USA in Shasta County, California, on July 15, 2014. Several pilots, doctors and scientists discussed problems arising from deliberate and large-scale intervention with technical means in the geochemical or biogeochemical cycles of the Earth through programs of the military-industrial complex. - It sounds somewhat complicated, but this concerns something that affects us all, namely the dispersal of chemical substances at great heights - particularly aluminum - which leads to contamination of our air and our waters.

Much is speculated about this topic on social media, so we let some eyewitnesses and experts speak here. The former commercial airline pilot Jeff Nelson describes normal condensation trails that are not laced with chemicals, which occur due to cold air at minus 30° Celsius. One would need to be at great altitude of approximately nine kilometers. The exhaust contained carbon dioxide and water vapor, which creates ice crystals and can then be seen as white trails behind airplanes. Within at most one minute, these crystals are normally reheated again, dissolved and disappeared. "What we can now observe - and at first I couldn't believe it myself - is no longer normal, is not natural. Something is happening there. I don't know who is behind it or why they're doing it, but I can attest that it is not natural and normal. Someone is influencing what's happening from the outside."

Dr. Steven Davis: "Brain cells are killed prematurely. Aluminum is the most important substance. It causes cell death."

Dr. Philippa Darbre cancer researcher: "It appears that aluminum can transform a cell into a cancer cell."

Dr. Steven Davis points out the connection between Alzheimer's as well as attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder and aluminum poisoning. High aluminum levels have been detected in all children affected by ADHD.

Allan Buckmann, former military meteorologist and biologist: "I looked at the clouds and the spraying process. When you look at the sun and see a white haze, that's the aluminum floating in the air and it comes from the airplanes - aluminum, strontium, barium and manganese. Aluminum occurs in nature, but only in bound form. Free aluminum normally does not occur. Nevertheless, we find huge amounts of free aluminum in the soil." What happens in the rivers, Buckmann calls "a collapse of the ecosystem, where we lose all organisms in the rivers because water contaminated with aluminum enters the rivers". As an interesting note, he raised the question in this context as to why Monsanto came up with the idea of developing aluminum-resistant plants.

The Federal Environment Agency wants to understand under the term geoengineering only "deliberate and targeted - usually conducted on a large scale - interventions in the climate system , with the goal of mitigating human-made (anthropogenic) climate warming (Royal Society 2009)." Interventions with a military background are simply not included in the definition of the federal authority, despite the regular, ton-wise dispersal of chemical substances over Germany by the military.

We therefore recommend: Protect yourself and the people in your household from the intake of aluminum and many other harmful substances through tap water as well as drinking water, with the help of a high-quality reverse osmosis filter.

also see in this channel: "Man-made" aluminum rain over Germany

Stupid, forgetful, Alzheimer's, MS, autoimmune diseases... caused by aluminum in water!

It's good.
to be truu.

This video shows, among other things, original excerpts from a historic meeting of an expert group in the USA in Shasta County, California, on July 15,